In the exhibit of general school work, the graduating class displays a souvenir book. in which have been recorded many speci-mens of ornamental penmanship, and pen mens of ornamental penmanship, and pen portraits of Homer, Dante, Lacorclaire, etc. The members of this class were the Misses Carey, McDevitt, Albro and Gainey. The subgraduate class, the Misses M. Louise Wimsatt and Kelly, show a souvenir book in botany, also solid work under pretty covers, in radicals and quadratres, with papers on English literature.

For the second academic class, the Misses Hammer, Daly and Murphy display some well-flustrated work on physics, with American literature, algebra and church history.

The fourth academic class, the Misses Archer, O'Donnell and Tull, has some pret-tily executed work in many branches, but all the academics have done themselves credit in bookkeeping.

The preparatories have some good papers on human physiology and very practical language work, while the first and second grammars deserve special mention for their display of papers in arithmetic, geography and other work, including maps in water colors. In the first grammar class the Misses G. Wimsatt and J. Mc. Devitt have some well-prepared pen sketchess.

Found Guilty-Mis Story of the Crime -Says She Was Unfaithful to Him.

The case of Michael Thomas, who, or the morning of February 27, attempted to kill his wife, Mary Thomas, and then himself, by cutting his throat, came up for trial in the corporation court yesterday. Court began at 10 o'clock, and the large stace outside the rail was crowded. Thomas was brought into court by Deputy Sergeant Webster, and he was all smiles as he calmly fanned himself with a large palm leaf fan. It was thought, at first, that some trouble would be had in securing a jury, but such was not the case. After the jury had been empaneled, Commonwealth Attorney Marbury, in a few brief remarks outlined the commonwealth's side of the case. Mr. Gardner L. Boothe, counsel for the defense, in his opening remarks to the jury, said that the defense intended to prove that the charge was not a premeditated one, but that the unfaithfulness of his wife, which she had acknowledged to him a moment before the assault, was the cause of the deed. The examination of vitnesses then began. The first witness called was Dr. T. Marshall Jones, who testified to having attended Mrs. Thomas after she had been wounded by her husband. He said that she had received two bullet said that she had received two bullet wounds, and three severe wounds, two in the head and one on the arm, with an ax. He further said that he did not think that Mrs. Thomas was entirely out of danger yet, as the wounds in her head had not healed, and that if they ever did heal, it would be several months before they did. He was followed by Mrs. Thomas. Her head was still bandaged, and she was evidently very weak, owing to her condition. Her examination was made as brief as Her examination was made as brief as possible, as it was feared that she would faint. She said that on the morning of the assault she was at her mother's, on North Fairfax street, when she received a mes-sage from her husband to come home and get her clothes out of the house. She went to the house of Mr. Augustus Dean, who resides across the street from her home and requested him to go with her, as she was afraid of her husband, but this Mr was arraid of her husband, but this Mr. Dean refused to do, saying that he had just left her husband, and that he would do her no harm. Mrs. Thomas, not yet being satisfied, then requested Mrs. Dean to go with her, which she did. When they arrived at the house they were met by Thomas, and a short conversation took place. In a few seconds the went westers to get her a few seconds she went upstairs to get her effects together. In a short while Thomas followed, when he accused her of being un faithful to him, saying that John Truslow a friend of the family, had told him of sev eral disgraceful scenes, in which she was the principal character. Thomas then struck her with his fist, after which she knew nothing. She was subjected to a se-vere cross-examination, but her testimony was not shaken Mrs. Augustus Dean vas then called, and testified to what took place down stairs just before the shooting. Several other witnesses who had seen and talked with Thomas shortly previous to the assault testified that the defendant was perfectly cool and collected.

Thomas was then put upon the stand in his own behalf. He said he was born in New Jersey and that he was forty-four years of age. He came to Alexandria sixteen years ago and shortly after his arrival he married Mary Cook, and for fourrival he married Mary Cook, and for four-teen years they lived happily together, when he heard that she was unfaithful to him. In December last he visited his parents in New Jersey and returned to this city about the 10th of February, when he was inform-ed that a man named Thomas Cochran had taken his place. One morning shortly be-fore the assault he asked his wife to week fore the assault he asked his wife to wash several shirts, as he was going on a short nd desired to take them with him. This she refused to do, saying she was feel-ing too badly to do so. Whereupon he washed them himself. After he had finished washing, he walked up the street to his mother-in-law's place, where he found his wife washing Cochran's clothes. That night, his suspicion having been aroused, he watched his wife and saw her go into Market alley. He followed her and was horrified to find her in a most compromising position with his bitter enemy Cochran. He did not say anything then, but went home, and in a short while his wife came in and to his horror, he discovered that she had been drinking heavily. He accused her of it, and she denied it. He then resolved that the best thing he could do would be to leave her and so told her. He then made arrangements to dispose of what he had and sent word to his wife to send and get what belonged to her. She did not send, for he stayed at home all that day. The rext morning he sent for her again, as he was determined to leave town as soon as About 10 o'clock she came; but she rot speak at first. He again told her of her disloyalty, but she laughed it off. She then went up stairs, and in a few minutes he followed her to see if he could not get her to mend her ways, as he loved her de-votedly. When he began to talk to her votedly. When he began to talk to her again she, in a most defiant way, used the vilest language possible for a woman to use. He then struck her; but what happened after that he did not know After Thomas had finished giving his testimony, the commonwealth attorney moved that his statement be ruled out, as it was principally hearsay evidence, and the judge ruled it out. At 12:10 o'clock the jury went to their room and it was exactly 5:20 o'clock when they returned a verdict of guilty and fixed his punishment at fiv years and six months in the penitentiary. The prisoner seemed as unconcerned as a man possibly could be, and was in the best of humor, smiling and talking to his friends close by the prisoners' box. When Deputy Webster left the court room with him or the way back to jail, Thomas' mother-in-law, sisters-in-law and their many friends were standing near the entrance of the court room. He spoke to them, but no response was made, whereupon Thomas became very happy and yelled out, "Let her go, Galliger, by —, I am perfectly satis-fled." The Star man accompanied him to the jall, and on the way he stated several times that he was satisfied with the ver-dict, although he thought that two years would have been a plenty for him, as his wife's remarks made him temporarily in-sane, and that he did not know at the time what he was doing.

A disinterested and clear - headed judge doesn't al-low himself to be biased by preju-dice. Superstition doesn't affect his decisions. Mere tradition has no place in his reasoning. Facts are the only things which he consid-ers. If the intelligent men and women who make up this great country of ours will simply to bear on the problem of curing their sickness, we will soon be a na

ity. The plain, undecorated facts about Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery are all that is necessary to convince fair-minded people of its transcendent merit. They are as follows: All diseases come from germs. The germs get into the blood, propagate and increase in the blood, which carries them all over the body. When they find a weak spot, they stick to the weak spot. It becomes a diseased spot, and the disease is called by the name corresponding to its location in the body. The cause is the same for nearly all diseases. All impurities are germs, or breed germs. Impure blood means germ filled blood. Kill the germs, climinate the impurities, enrich the blood, and it will force itself into the diseased spot and strengthen it, and give it power to throw off the germs that exist there. Dr. Pierce's Golden Med-ical Discovery is designed to do this-that is the theory. The facts are these—tens of thousands of people have used the "Discovery." It used to be sold with the understanding that if it didn't cure, it should be returned, and the money refunded. Nobody ever asked for the money, and so that clause was dropped. Thousands of people have written voluntary letters of thanks to its discoverer. A few of these letters have its discoverer. A few of these letters have been included in Dr. Pierce's great thousand page book, Common Sense Medical Adviser. It will be sent absolutely free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay for mailing only. Address, with stamps, World's Dispensary Medical Association, No. 663

JUSTICE FIELD UNDER X RAY Diseased Knee Photographed in Forty-Five Minutes.

Justice Field had an experience yesterday at San Francisco of three-quarters of an hour under the Roentgen rays. He is troubled with an affection of the knee joint, which doctors cannot define precisely. The negative showed that tibia and the femur have almost grown together.
The hinge, so to speak, is practically solidified. The bones have not that clearness of outline shown in the normal knee. The result is a gratifying demonstration of the X ray as a means of disclosing the nature, location and extent of an interior lesion.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts-gentle efforts-pleasant effortsrightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine arti-cle, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.
